Which Mailer Are You?

You routinely process multiple mailings daily, using a variety of import formats, and require top output flexibility — including high-end inkjet printing support

You drop-ship mailings to multiple BMCs and/or SCFs, and need a software solution that can handle those tasks and other more advanced functions

Your mailings require palletization, support for specialized USPS mailing categories, or other enhancements available only as premium options for Mail Manager 2010

You process mailing jobs occasionally or rarely, usually from a single internal source

A tight budget makes upfront costs particularly important: you're willing to sacrifice some advanced features for the lowest possible subscription price

Your needs are simple today, but you expect them to grow in the future — making it essential that your software solution have a simple and clear upgrade path
